PRIZES IN DRAW HELD BY POLICE IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Jan. 31.—(UPI)—Winners of a brand new car and a $7,500 house claimed their prizes awarded by the Optimist club. Its "quizdraw" was described by police as an illegal lottery.

Supt. G. A. Laffer of the criminal investigation department said the prizes would be held "in abeyance until the case is decided."

He said criminal charges would be laid against the club.

Britain Signs Nordic Pact

PARIS, Jan. 31.—(Reuters)—Britain, Sweden, Norway and Denmark have announced an agreement for closer economic cooperation—the so-called "Lisbon Pact."

This provides for an Anglo-Scandinavian economic committee and removes any restrictions on payments among the four countries.

From a date to be announced, but not earlier than March 1, Britain, Sweden, Norway and Denmark will allow unlimited tourist expenditure in Britain or Scandinavia. A British tourist will be allowed to spend as much as he likes in Norway, Denmark and Sweden, just as he can at present in the Republic of Ireland or any other part of the sterling area.

All four countries will allow current payments to be made among them without restrictions. Besides travel, this freedom will extend to all payments in respect of goods for which an import licence is not required. All other payments connected with foreign trade and other currency business, including freight, services and royalties, interest, dividends, amortization and depreciation.

Each will free all blocked balances and other blocked assets owned by residents of the other three countries.

Atomic Pact Is Vital McNaughton Declares

Exclusive to the Bulletin

MONTREAL, Jan. 31.—(UPI)—Development of the hydrogen bomb makes it important that the atomic energy all the more urgent, but does not alter the basic issues at stake, Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said here.

"Development of the hydrogen bomb makes it all the more important that we find a solution to this problem," he said. "But it doesn't alter the basic facts which we have been working on."

McNaughton was formerly chairman of Canada's atomic energy control board and has represented this country on the UN atomic commission since its formation three and a half years ago.

The proposed new superbomb may be as much as 100 times more powerful than the atomic bomb dropped on Japan.

But nuclear weapon could win a war by itself, he said, and conventional armaments were still essential to defence.

The west still had a technical advantage over the Soviet bloc despite the fact that there had been an atomic explosion in Russia, he said.

"We believe that margin to be increasing and it remains a real danger to aggression," he said.

Recordings Used As Evidence In Court Case

TORONTO, Jan. 31.—(UPI)—Legal history was believed made today when wire recordings were tentatively admitted as evidence in a $50,000 damage suit. The Toronto Police asked an injunction and damages against Henry M. Collins, his former chief chemist, charging he broke a trust and disclosed confidential information.

Three records of conversations said to have taken place between Collins and a detective hired by the police were played before the judge. The hearing is continuing.

Jews Told Not To Wed Gentiles

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 31.—(UPI)—The president of the rabbinical council of America urges Jews to shun marriage with gentiles because "it tends to weaken the stamina of the American population."

Rabbi Israel Tabak of Baltimore, Md., said studies indicate that 90 per cent of mixed marriages have been failures.

Mutual understanding among various creeds and sects "could be fostered to a greater effectiveness" if intermarriages were avoided, he said.

"You can't love thy neighbor," but you do not necessarily have to marry his daughter," Tabak said.

Reds Tangle With Workers

MAINEVILLE, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Fist fights broke out yesterday between Communists and non-Communist workers in the nearby village of Mainville. The clash resulted from a disagreement over whether to work overtime in the construction of 200 Vampire aircraft for the French Air Force in a state-owned plane factory. The Communists opposed any overtime work on the project.

Price Floors For Perishable Foods Tough

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 31.—(CP)—Similar difficulties in carrying out price support programs for farm products were outlined here last night by agricultural minister Gardiner for Canada and an agricultural expert for the United States.

Mr. Gardiner and Prof. Kenneth Galtsoff, Ontario-born director of agricultural research and marketing at Harvard University, both said price supports are unworkable for perishable products.

Their views were given during a national farm radio forum broadcast over the CBC's national network. Their audience was comprised of delegates to the 14th annual meeting of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

Mr. Gardiner said that plans found applicable in wartime are not useful in peacetime.

Some perishable products could not be supported in Canada as there might be supported. However, there were occasions when perishables would require support and wheat would not.

TEMPORARY PROGRAM

Prof. Galtsoff described the present American farm program as both complicated and temporary. Accumulation of large government-owned stocks was only one of the difficulties with price-fixing under legislation adopted last year. He said the policy was unworkable for eggs, dairy products, pork, potatoes and other perishable items of which only limited amounts can be stored.

Under the U.S. plan, prices for most crops were fixed at 90 per cent of parity level for the 1959 crop year with guarantees thereon after operating on a sliding scale down to a minimum of 75 per cent.

As an alternative, there was the controversial Russian plan—introduced by Charles H. Brannan, U.S. secretary of agriculture, whereby products would be dumped on the domestic market at any price and the government would make up the difference to the producer with subsidies.

Flathead was the name given to a tribe of South American Indians—the name originating from an ancient custom of flattening their skulls of children during infancy.

Extension Wanted Of Wheat Control

Board To Go 'All-Out' Seeking Indefinite Continuation of Power

By Pierre Dubois
Canadian Press Writer

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 31.—(CP)—Western wheat pool officials said here they will go all out for extension of the Canadian wheat board's powers controlling the sale of wheat.

J. H. Wesson, Regina, president of the 100,000-member Saskatchewan Co-operative Producers' Association, said the board should be extended to this year's crop and for the period they should be implemented.

It was understood that in addition to the question of having wheat floor prices raised for barley, rye and oats, delegates also would seek price support for a number of other commodities.

Government price support for apples and potatoes will be sought under the War Measures Act in 1963 to ensure fulfillment of grain contracts in Britain.

Mr. Wesson said the grain trade has indicated it might go to the courts to prove its contention that the powers are unconstitutional. Their representatives advocate that the wheat farmer should be given the option of selling on an open market, thus limiting the board's sale powers.

W. J. Parker of Winnipeg, president of the Manitoba Pool Elevators, limited, said wheat pool operators want to see the board's powers continued indefinitely.

The wheat market's reaction was one of 130 brought to the convention by western conference delegates. Eastern delegates added another 12.

CONTROL EXPIRES JULY 1

The wheat board's monopoly control on the sale of wheat and coarse grains expires next July 1. The board was given its powers under the War Measures Act, 1943 to ensure fulfillment of grain contracts in Britain.

Ice Cycles Show Is Triumph Here

Sparkling Revue Opens Week Stand at Gardens

Color, rhythm and Walt Disney's Snow White and her seven dwarfs were woven into a pleasing pattern last night at the opening performance of Ice Cycles of 1950 at the Edmonton Gardens.

By far the outstanding feature of the show was the concise, ice version of the cartoon drama, starring Margaret Field as Snow White.

Using simple scenery, the rest of the show runs the gamut of ice standards—the chorus line, acrobats and pair-skating.

SOUND OF DWARFS

Children and their parents at the Gardens last night got another thrill out of seeing the Seven Dwarfs, aided by Dopey, marching and singing the work song "Hi-Ho."

Voices were dubbed into the skating routine by a sound track.

REMINISCENCE OF ALLETT

Other sequences in the two-and-a-half-hour show contrast nicely to give the audience a variety of entertainment.

A beautifully executed and ballet-like scene was "North Wings" with Pat Matthews and James Wright.

The pair was painted in gold and went through the show, figures with enough interesting variation to draw loud applause.

Costume show was supplied in four scenes featuring Willie Kall, Bobby Harris, Buddy Lalonde and John Brown.

LAUDABLE PRECISION

Buddy Lalonde drew encore calls from the crowd with his rubber-ankle and double joint knee act.

Another sketch takes the crowd down to South America, when Yvette Brier, "South American Bomb Shell," does some hip-wiggling on the ice. Show continues rest of the week—Don Travis.

'Fish' Appeal 4 Convictions As Drug Ring

VICTORIA, Jan. 31.—(UPI)—Four of five men convicted last fall of conspiring to distribute narcotics through what RCMP called a Canada-wide ring launched appeal today.

Counsel for three of them contended the crown did not prove at the trial whether the narcotics they allegedly conspired to distribute was a salt of one of the drugs forbidden under the criminal code of Canada.

Appealing sentence are Carmen Chiovitti, Toronto; Don Gasparini, Hamilton; and Mike Kishman and Steve Richak of Vancouver. Also sentenced last fall was Frank Leacock, Vancouver, who is not appealing.

G. A. Martin, Toronto criminal lawyer, said the men were charged with conspiring to distribute a salt of diacetylmorphine but that the crown's evidence proved only that the substance handled by the accused was "diacetylmorphine hydrochloride."

Mr. Martin, counsel for those appealing, excepting Kishman, argued that "I have no way of knowing if diacetylmorphine hydrochloride is a salt of diacetylmorphine or not."

Neither had the jury, he added. The common term for diacetylmorphine hydrochloride is heroin, a derivative of morphine.

Counsel for Kishman, Gerald V. Pelton of Vancouver, argued his client is "just a little fish that has been drawn into the net by the big fish from Toronto."

Without mentioning names it said the most popular centres for "cheap, luscious" divorces were Cuernavaca, where Paulette Goddard and Faye Emerson have divorced, and Mexico City, where Ingrid Bergman has filed for divorce.

"Many states have entered into a veritable mania in the divorce business," the newspaper said. "It is painful to think that persons seeking a divorce verdict after trotting around the entire world."

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Would you leave a $5,000-a-week job to assert your independence?

Van Heflin did. And he has no regrets.

"I figure this way," he said.

"After five years of college and 20 years in the business, I ought to be capable enough to make my own decisions. At any rate, I would prefer my mistakes to be my own, and not those made by my studio."

Heflin's parting with MGM was friendly, but he made no secret of his discontent with his post-war roles.

FLOPPED IN 6 P.M.

Heflin, who had flopped as a B-picture actor at RKO in 1936, accepted an MGM contract in 1941. He started at $500 a week, $150 less than his stage salary.

"I wasn't swamped with offers," he said with unusual candor. "I took the salary cut because I wanted to get a movie name. I realized I didn't have the good looks or personality to become a topflight star, but I felt I had enough competence as an actor to establish myself."

Even Opera Stars Seem To Have Contract Tiffs

By John M. Roach

Exclusive to the Bulletin

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(UPI)—The Metropolitan Opera tried today to patch things up with prima donna, Helen Traubel, sulking like a hard-to-get big league baseball pitcher.

But the red-haired Wagnerian soprano said her decision to quit the company at the end of the season still stands unless she sees that the Metropolitan has to offer.

Met Traubel said she often the threat to resign, "completely broke" her chief Wagnerian rival, Norwegian Kirsten Flagstad, hasn't made her think twice in her feud with Rudolph Bing, the Met's director.

Even in the face of this threat her standing, John L. Lewis' mine workers philosophy of "no contract, no work" is an "awfully good policy," she said.

NO CONTRACT YET

She is fuming because Bing, who takes over June 1, hasn't offered her a new contract yet for the 1950-51 season. She and her manager, James A. Davidson, felt Bing should have had things settled, at least on an informal basis, by the end of November or December, particularly because of her position as the Met's No. 1 operatic soprano.

"A Wagnerian dramatic soprano is a rare bird," she told reporters last night at a press conference after a concert at Constitution Hall in Washington, D.C.

However, Davidson expected to find a letter from Bing at his New York office today. Bing, calling the entire incident "very unfortunate and rather hairy," said he

It's a Chore, Chums

Those travelling secretaries whose special job it is to look after the transporting about the country of major league baseball and hockey teams have it soft compared with Jim Harkins.

In case you haven't heard, Boston-born and bred Harkins happens to manage Ice-Cycles on ice show currently playing the Edmonton Gardens. When the show is on the move from one centre to the next the personnel occupies four pullman cars. The baggage used up another three.

When it comes time to count noses, Mr. Harkins likes it to add up to 94 or thereabouts. Even the Notre Dame football circus that covers so many miles every autumn doesn't come and go on such a grand scale.

And how much travelling does Ice-Cycles knock off in a year? "Close to 50,000 miles," Mr. Harkins supplied the answer.

"We go all the way from Victoria to Halifax in Canada," he broke it out. "Once across the line it's the deep south, and then up along the west coast again."

"We get around, alright."

"An H-Cycle? Wot's That?"

Last year, for the first time, the show played in England. For 12 weeks they held forth in Empress Hall, Earl's Court, London.

And business was pretty good, too, especially after the name Ice-Cycles was dropped temporarily in favor of the longer "All-American Ice Skating Revue."

Seems everyone in England - particularly - owns either a bicycle or motorcycle. Those literal-minded Englishmen just couldn't get used to the idea of an Ice-Cycle. It didn't stick up.

From Earl's Court the show hopped to Pittsburgh. That'll give you a small idea of the magnitude of the jumps they sometimes make.

The jump to England interfered with holiday plans. As a result most members of the show have been on the job, without a breather, since September, 1948.

There isn't a chance, either, of doing much about it until May at the earliest. "We'll take it easy for a month," Harkins explained.

"Then we head for England again."

This time the show is booked for a 16 weeks' run.

Saw Shore in His Heyday

For nine years - while Eddie Shore was at his peak - Harkins operated the public address system in the Boston Gardens. Only he calls it "Gaw-d'ns."

He was on the job the night Shore slammed Toronto's "Ace" Bailey to the ice, thereby touching off hockey's all-time ruckus. And like so many others who "saw it happen," he has never been able to decide whether the charge was intentional or not.

"Shore was a very rough player," was his comment. As far as Canadian cities are concerned Edmonton is one-two Ice-Cycles' best box-office draw. It's between the Alberta capital and Halifax.

And not that it was always this way. After the first showing here in 1946 there were those higher-ups who were convinced that Edmonton was a turkey.

But Harkins convinced them that in time Edmonton "would be our best town in Canada." So far his crystal ball has proven so right.

Naturally someone brought up the question of that big stick-up in Edmonton the other afternoon. "Didja know the Brinks?" Harkins was asked.

No, not personally, he hadn't known the people who were taken for the big $150,000 reward. "But I guess some of my friends know 'em," he chuckled.

"Imagine," he imagined, "having to leave another million behind 'cause you couldn't carry it. Holy mokes!"

Late Saskatoon Drive Overhauls Regina 2-1

SASKATOON, Jan. 31 (CP) — Saskatoon Quakers last night pulled a third-period switcheroo, snuffing out Regina Capitals' one-goal lead and going on to win their Western Canada Senior Hockey league game 2-1.

The game did not affect them that in time Edmonton "would be our best town in Canada." So far his crystal ball has proven so right.

standings, though it moved Quakers to within one point of the second-place Calgary Stampedeers.

Cy House and Tommy Burlingame led the scoring for Saskatoon, House tying the score early in the third, and Burlingame adding the clincher with less than five minutes to go.

LEAD LOOKED GOOD Red Tilson took Bob Wiest's pass in the first frame to give Caps a one-goal edge that looked mighty good.

Both Harry Barford in the Cap nets and Johnny Sotak for Saskatoon tied the score early in the third, and Burlingame adding the clincher with less than five minutes to go.

ON ROPES from savage two-fisted attack, Hal Robbins, left, ducks out of danger. Although taking severe beating from Al Marotti, Robbins proved himself ring-wise performer who could take a good punch. But he was outlasted from bell to bell by sharper-punching, smarter-boxing Marotti.

Maple Leafs and EAC Score Juvenile Puck Wins

Milder weather means hockey action for the minor teams, and last night, with mercury hovering around seven above zero, Edmonton juveniles saw action on all fronts.

Maple Leaf squad, the A's and B's, emerged winners as did Louis Holmes' EAC team.

EAC staged a furious third period comeback to top Canadian A squad 6-5 at 118 street. Canadian B also were unable to come up with a winning effort, losing to Maple Leaf A 6-2 at Eastwood.

Maples edged South Side 3-1 in a game played at Donna Estate rink.

At Eastwood, the Canuck six fell apart in the last period and allowed Ory Solayak's A's to score 4 goals for the win. Score was 2-0 after two periods of play.

Rennie Carrier, Ben Stein and George Townsend were the markers for Maples in the South Side game.

At 118 street surface, EAC blasted goal past Gord Ferguson in the first frame to snuff Canadian's second period lead of 2-0.

EAC center Jim Dryden started things off in that hectic third frame, counting two goals to close the gap. With only seven minutes remaining, Dryden's linemate Russ Kowalschuk tied the game.

He showed in a loose puck during a scramble in front of the net.

Winger Gene Synka passed the disc to Dryden and the blood ace counted his third goal and EAC's winner.

Dickie Day and Grant Gilbertson also fired goals for the winners. Clyde Griffin-Beale pulled a pair for Canadians and singleton went to Wally Sawchuk, Roy Phillips and Maurice and Morneau.

LEFT SMASH to chin rocks Robbins, left, back on his heels and leaves him wide open for right cross to the face. Marotti's one-two punch worked perfectly all night, softening up Robbins from first round onward. It was this device which finally quashed Vancouver battler in sixth round.

Marotti KO's Hal Robbins

By Dick Beddoes

Bippity, Boppity, Boom! Along toward 10:55 last night, in the Stock Pavilion, that sound echoed around the empty pews. And boxing connoisseurs present instantly diagnosed it to mean the end of the road for a young man named Hal Robbins.

For the brutal fact of the matter is that Mr. Robbins was knocked out at that instant in the sixth round by Al Marotti, a hustling little ring culey who first saw the light of day in Youngstown, Ohio.

The fight was a good one while it lasted, with Marotti proving himself to be the finest main eventer to come this way in many and many a moon.

He was everything his manager Alex Kinsfather said he was - simple, brave and true. His left jab was short and straight, and he crashed his right in the classic manner.

That was it - the sixth bell. Robbins didn't need to be counted out. He had tumbled like a shot duck. And he will be sore in several places today, including his face and under the heart.

After 1000 fans had vacated the pavilion Robbins ruffly admitted that his gloves were going into the moth balls for keeps.

"To get to settle down and marry my gal on the coast," said the 25-year-old Vancouver lad, then, brightly. "She won't hit as hard as Marotti."

Maybe she won't, at that. For Marotti was another step along the road toward recognition as one of the best writers anywhere in the West. Time was when he used to fight in the preliminary bouts in San Francisco on cards where Robbins was boxing in the stellar attractions.

They've both come a far piece since then, but in opposite directions. Marotti weighed 143, Robbins 147.

Swim Suits Hog Spotlight as U.S. Temperatures Set Winter Records

SUMMER CLIMES have struck the U.S. as temperatures soared to nearly 70 degrees in Philadelphia at week-end. Four pretty girls decided to take sunbath near famous William Penn statue. Penn is Marge Pucciarelli and Pat Mealy, both of Philly, Doris Michel, Riverton, N.J., and Doris Scheetz, Norristown.

ROCKAWAY BEACH in New York was another favorite spot for sunbathers at week-end as temperatures set a new January mark of 70.5 degrees. Phyllis Chaimowitz, left, and Dolores Strooker, were two of millions who donned bathing suits for spot of sun.

AND IN WASHINGTON we find an Edmonton girl, Janet Matheson, enjoying blissful sunshine with Patty Ann Barnes of Westfield, Mass., centre, and Helen Davidson of Dallas, Texas. Temperature hit the 75 above degree mark as girls climbed out on a hotel roof near the U.S. capitol. Where bathing suits were not available, girls, all employed in Washington, used towels.

Provincial Badminton Called Off This Year

By Bart Gibb

Badminton players who won Alberta titles in 1949 will probably retain their laurels without so much as batting an eye.

For the provincial championships, scheduled to be held in Calgary this year, have been cancelled due to the dominion finals being staged there the first week in March.

It is reported that Badminton officials called off the provincial tournament for fear of lack of entries due to both events being held around the same period.

The Canadian championships were held last year in Montreal at the Alway Club.

Fourteen members of the Edmonton Badminton Club will be heading for Moose Jaw this week-end to take part in the Saskatchewan open tournament, which is scheduled for February 3-4.

Also travelling to Moose Jaw will be the Badminton Club members who were held last year in Montreal at the Alway Club.

Over 50 Touchdown Club members heard Jack Buchanan outline plans for the drive. Eklund manager Al Anderson told the meeting that the football executive hopes to raise $25,000 through Touchdown subscriptions. A sum of $10 or more will make anyone a member of the TC.

Meanwhile, coach Annie Stukus and manager Anderson valued Watkins last night to give the first public showing of the 1949 Grey Cup film. Stukus filled in as commentator for the flickers on the Montreal Alouettes-Calgary Stampede battle.

The Grey Cup film, with a companion feature on kicking and passing, will be shown at Western auditorium tonight and to the Touchdown Club members in the Recreation building tomorrow night. Veterans in the Colonel McNeill Pavilion will be the guests of the Grey Cup.

Anderson would like all organizations interested in showing the film to contact him immediately at 4265.

Aspen Snickers At Lake Placid

ASPEN, Colo., Jan. 31.—(AP)—Aspen snickered today over news that Lake Placid, N.Y., hasn't enough snow to put on its full share of the 1950 world ski championships. Aspen is getting all the while stuff it wanted in the past.

A foot of powdery snow fell last night and today on this Rocky Mountain village where the world downhill and slalom events will be held starting Feb. 12.

Team-mates of the veteran bowler who is on the Stampede and Electric squad in the Senior Men's league, are Jimmy Stokker, George Redberge, Emory Long, George Frederickson and Bill Gallison.

It's off to Regina and Saskatoon tonight for the Flyers, who finally broke that season-long jinx on Calgary ice by whipping Stampede 5-2 in Cowtown last night.

The local entry in the Western Canada Hockey loop, now boasting a seven-point lead on the field, are booked into Regina's Queen City Gardens tomorrow night, play at Saskatoon, Thursday.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Faulty Measures New Cake Failure Excuse

By Bea Thilly

These premixes who've been unemployed since war's end are back into action again.

This time they're plugging poor defenceless homemakers.

Seems some naughty premixes are sticking their little fingers into the baking dish... to cause flat cakes, porous muffins and other unhappy results.

But we've traced their operation centre to the measuring cups and spoons.

Manufacturers have fallen prey to their wiles by careless marking of measuring utensils.

No... the new twist is inaccurate measuring cups.

Recent government tests of measuring cups showed some of them to be as much as one-third off standard... either over-size or skimpy. Three out of four were inaccurate in this test.

And of course, any of these faulty measures is capable of ruining any number of carefully compounded dishes. In an effort to make recipes fool-proof, some bright manufacturers have been providing their own measures.

Canadian Association of Consumers' Association has been working for standardization and labeling. Here's another field for them to play.

Soon we have to see manufacturers agreeing to program... and we'll see the measuring cups written on kitchen products.

And while we still fluff about the kitchen let's have word or three about the new products available for kitchen gadgets.

Yellow, green, red, combinations of colors... are new choices for kitchen accessories. Many are more easily obtainable in full equipment sets now.

On display in one local shop is an assortment of canister sets, plastic measuring aids, bowls, refrigerator dishes, complete set of working knives, cutlery dividers... in the works.

Plastic is the happy answer in many cases of course.

But it's nice to know your kitchen can be a place of cheer and color from a moderate budget.

Pork prices rocketed downward to such an extent that a good ham is less expensive than a moderate budget beef roast.

I bought a perfectly beautiful flavored ham at 45c per pound just today. Almost sold meat. It's serving as a basis for a handful of different dishes.

A prime ham, also a pride of my special butler, sells now for 32c and 35c per pound.

TREAT THE FAMILY—Josephine Lowman suggests you give the family a break and use your telephone voice on them. Most women are much more polite on the phone.

WHY GROW OLD

Woman's Telephone Voice Sharp Contrast

By Josephine Lowman

Neal O'Hara wrote: "You never know how the human voice can change until a woman quits shouting her husband and answers the telephone."

This is a vivid and humorous example of how many people put good manners on or take them off, as the case may be, when they pick up the telephone. The secret which is too often reserved for the family alone is quickly and easily used on outsiders.

Yet, if there is any place in the house where polite manners and good manners are important, it is in the family life. It is difficult enough for us to live in a civilized manner in communities and much more so in those relationships which bind us closely together in the family unit. If a home is to have any peace or charm it must have gracious manners.

It seems to me that this is a thought we might take along with us in 1950 with great resulting benefit. Of course, sudden politeness or unpoliteness will be a shock to many men and women and children but they will not doubt, whether it came from the telephone or not, to love it.

From a purely selfish standpoint, there is nothing which pays such dividends in good health, good digestion, plus peace and contentment as a happy home and family life.

The harsh emotions of anger and irritability and hate tend to the facial muscles and pull facial contour down, causing lines and wrinkles. The corners of the mouth drop downward, lines deepen from the nose to the mouth and appear between the eyebrows.

So, for the good of family life, for the beauty of the face, for the sake of looking younger and feeling better, let's use the telephone voice on the family!

In an emergency, use celluloid to take up a gagging hen. It will do much until you can get back home to make permanent repairs.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Women Delight in Own Misery, Says Miss Dix

Women's chief vice is self-pity. Practically the entire sex is cursed with the martyr complex.

They are never so happy as when they are miserable, and there is nothing out of which they get such a kick as going on a jag of tears.

When a lady commences her lament, it is a girl's cradle she bestows upon her constant grievance.

This explains so many things about women that are otherwise inexplicable, mysteries of feminine psychology.

Most of all, it explains why women are never truer than when they are miserable. The whole trend of a woman's mind is away from sadness and toward the woman who is not sad and borrows trouble if she has none of her own.

MEN FORGET WORRIES

A man pushes aside his worries and tries to forget them. A woman takes them deep and cautions them, and never lets them go.

Women dwell on many things about women that are otherwise inexplicable, mysteries of feminine psychology.

Most of all, it explains why women are never truer than when they are miserable. The whole trend of a woman's mind is away from sadness and toward the woman who is not sad and borrows trouble if she has none of her own.

CHANGE OF LIFE?

Are you going through "change of life"? Have you noticed the changes in your body? Do you feel tired, nervous, or irritable? Do you have hot flashes or night sweats? Do you feel like you are losing control of your emotions? Do you feel like you are losing control of your life?

These are the signs of "change of life." It is a natural process that every woman goes through. It is not a disease, and it is not something to be ashamed of. It is simply a part of being a woman.

There are many ways to deal with "change of life." Some women take medicine, some take herbs, some take vitamins. Some women talk to a doctor, some talk to a counselor, some talk to a friend. Some women just ignore it and hope it goes away.

Whatever you choose to do, remember that "change of life" is a natural process. It is not a disease, and it is not something to be ashamed of. It is simply a part of being a woman.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Children's Jealousy Takes Different Forms

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When parents do everything possible to prevent an older child being jealous of the baby, they should appreciate that some feeling of jealousy is natural and well-nigh unavoidable.

It is only just and fair, though, to avoid an amiable attitude of "New baby, new life, new joy!" If parents take the child into association with them as a member of the family welcoming a little newcomer, there may be some jealousy, but not the bitter, resentful type that would come if the child felt abandoned and saw the parents immersed in the tasks peculiar to caring for and showing off a new baby.

The relation of this older child to the parents will have to be different when the baby comes. If the child is possessive and cannot bear to see the mother enjoy other interests, then there is certain to be some sore feelings because the jealous baby demands so much attention.

The best help the parents can give a child is to make him, or her, feel certain that he has his rightful, if different, place in the hearts of the parents. Then the child can rest on an objective and realistic basis and yet assured that the parents will love and appreciate him for whatever he happens to be.

Then there is room for a baby, however dimpling and cuddlesome, and the older child will not feel that he is being pushed out of the house. It is also loved for what it is.

It remains for the parent to keep upholding the child's self-esteem, making much of his good points, resting up on criticism and scolding. It is while the child is in the throes of getting used to "having" a new baby, and not the child that the parent should be self-conscious about his problem.

Some children do not show their jealousy, but they are there. Sometimes this obsession with holding and loving the baby, is one way the child has of making himself feel an ownership in the baby that discounts that of the parents.

Australians Prefer Sheep Floor Covers

SYDNEY, Australia. — (CP) — Sheepskins are becoming one of the most popular floor coverings in Australian homes.

They were first used widely during the war, when rugs and carpets were prohibited imports. Sheepskins, used as rugs or made up as wall-to-wall carpeting, have since become an important sideline of the Australian wool industry.

Modern interior decorators say that the skins are effective, easy and durable. They can be cleaned easily, and retain their soft, firm pile. Dyed to delicate pastel shades or left in natural cream color, the rugs look particularly attractive on waxed or polished floors.

An apartment at Darling Point, a harborside suburb of Sydney, offers an excellent example of sheepskin floor-covering in its most effective form.

Warm, caramel-colored skins, joined in a diamond pattern cover a staircase. The sitting room has wall-to-wall covering of natural, sheepskin, which blends into the color scheme of the house and its furniture.

In one bedroom there are plumed-crown sheepskin rugs. The guest room has wall-to-wall covering of natural, sheepskin, which blends into the color scheme of the house and its furniture.

New Legislation Eases Tax Burden

At the fifty-second annual meeting of National Trust Company, Limited, Mr. W. M. O'Connor, President, said in part:

I have much pleasure in presenting for your approval a statement of the Company's affairs for the year ending December 31st, 1949, that I believe you will find most satisfactory. The Company had a particularly fine year. Both the profits of the Company and the assets held for estates, trusts and agencies, which really indicate the volume of our business, are the highest in the history of the Company.

Special Attention to Tax Problems

I am repeating today what I have said before—that it is difficult to speak of the services offered to clients of a Trust Company without referring to the special attention given to the problem of taxes. Taxes today touch all phases of business and private life, and the officers and staff of a Trust Company must at all times be thoroughly conversant with the latest enactments and regulations. We have always considered it one of our duties, however, to go further than this and to consider how they affect our clients and to point out any results which appear to be unjust or inequitable.

In my remarks last year I referred to the exemption granted by the Dominion Succession Duty Act with respect to all estates of $50,000 and under, and I urged that the Province of Ontario should consider taking the same step towards relieving from duty the beneficiaries of estates of a similar size in Ontario.

Exemption to Preferred Beneficiaries

It is gratifying to note that by an amendment made to the Ontario Succession Duty Act in 1949, exemption has been granted to certain beneficiaries of Ontario estates where the estate does not exceed $50,000. The exemption, however, does not go as far as that included in the Dominion Act, since the beneficiaries in the case of Ontario are the preferred beneficiaries, that is, father, mother, husband, wife, child, son-in-law, daughter-in-law.

I also recommended spreading the payment of the duties on life interests and annuities over the life expectancy instead of requiring payment within four years, as the Act then stood, and also a reduction from 5% to 3% in the rate of interest used by the Ontario Government in valuing life interests. The Ontario Government has now amended the Act so as to spread the payment of the duties on life interests over the life expectancy of the annuitant or for ten years, whichever is the shorter. It has also changed the rate of interest used in valuing life interests from 5% to 4%. The change in the rate became effective as of January 1st, 1950.

Relieve Hardships in Small Estates

These changes will go a long way towards relieving real hardship, especially in the moderate sized estates where the Will contained no direction to pay duty out of capital. In such cases the income during the four-year period had to provide not only the instalments of duty but the income taxes payable by the beneficiary as well. The amendment has had the effect of easing the burden of this class of beneficiaries—usually widows—as the time for the payment of the instalments has been very substantially lengthened.

Problem of Canadian Shareholders U.S. Stock

During the year the Company played a leading part in the representations that were made to the Dominion Government to obtain relief for Canadian shareholders of United States Steel Corporation. As a result of the action of the Directors of that Corporation in capitalizing earned surplus, approximately $20,000 per share became taxable in the hands of Canadian shareholders for each share held. A Canadian shareholder who, for example, held 100 shares of the stock would have had to report an additional $2,000 as income for 1949 and pay tax on it even though no part of the $2,000 would ever be received by him. With excellent co-operation from the Chairman of the Board and the President of the U.S. Steel Corporation, we were able to coordinate action by the Canadian shareholders, and we believe that the amendment to the Income Tax Act which was recently approved by Parliament was to a very considerable extent the result of the representations made by us on behalf of these shareholders. Generally speaking, the amendment provides that Canadian shareholders of foreign corporations, in which less than 50 per cent. of the share capital is held in Canada, will not be liable for income tax as a result of action taken by such corporations in capitalizing surplus, winding up, or on the redemption or conversion of shares.

A welcome provision of the new Canadian Income Tax Act was that which allowed individuals to credit against their personal income taxes an amount equal to 10 per cent. of the dividends they received from shares of Canadian tax-paying corporations.

Aim to Remove Double Taxation

I think that the Finance Minister's statements in introducing the measure in Parliament in March last were highly significant. He said that the removal of double taxation of corporate profits was one of the aims of the programme placed before the Dominion-Provincial Conference in 1945 and 1946, and that it had been a declared objective of his Government for a long time. He also said that the tax might be as high as 80 per cent. on distribution to shareholders, and that under a system of private enterprise, which depends for its existence on a steady flow of venture capital, the Government could not afford to neglect the implication of this defect in our tax system. He stated further that it is a matter of concern for the future under a system where we depend, and must depend, for full employment and the creation of new wealth on the willingness of our people to risk their money in constructive enterprises.

The Finance Minister's statement of the definite policy of the Government in relation to the double taxation of corporation profits is reassuring and most commendable. It is to be hoped that the measure of relief recently given to shareholders of Canadian corporations will at the earliest possible date be enlarged to the point where the double taxation feature will be completely eliminated.

In concluding my remarks I wish to say to my executive colleagues in the management of the Company, and to every member of the staff, how deeply appreciative I am of their loyalty and fine spirit of co-operation—attributes which really seem to be traditional in this Company. At the same time I would like to add my personal thanks and those of the officers of the Company to the Chairman of the Board, the Vice-Presidents and Directors of the Company for their help and counsel at all times.

In his address at the annual meeting of National Trust Company, Limited, Mr. J. G. Hungerford, General Manager, said in part:

The Balance Sheet which has been read today indicates the strength of the Company's position and the satisfactory progress made during the year 1949.

The amount held for Estates, Trusts and Agencies has reached a total of $341,947,861.56, the highest in the Company's history. This figure represents an increase over the previous year of $9,555,037.98. It must be remembered that this is a net increase in assets administered for the public in various fiduciary capacities. It is not the total of the new business entrusted to us during the year. The figure was arrived at after deducting all payments of capital made to or on behalf of clients or beneficiaries during the year. These payments, which include instalments of succession duty, legacies, claims and distributions made on the winding up of estates, totalled $25,221,000, or more than $2,000,000 per month. Thus the total amount of the new business for the year reached a figure of $316,726,861.56.

Trust Experience is Invaluable

In their day-to-day work our officers are faced with all the practical problems of administration, and there, as one would expect, have become increasingly complex over the course of the years due to constantly changing economic and social conditions. Involving as our business does the administration of almost every conceivable kind of asset and the settlement of the widest possible variety of problems—not the least of which are human problems—it is only natural that there has been accumulated a tremendous reserve of experience on which to draw. Whether a problem relates to real estate, mortgages, valuation of private businesses, investments or taxes, someone in the organization has had previous experience on the matter to headlight with. We consider this experience to be one of the most valuable contributions we can make to the estates and trusts we are called upon to administer. We consider it to be of the greatest value to the living, since it enables us to be of real service in planning, through Wills, for the future security of families and dependents.

Investment of Trust Funds

One of our most difficult and pressing problems today is the investment of trust funds. We are often asked, "What is the investment policy of National Trust Company for estates?" This is a difficult question to answer categorically because of the great difference in the size and composition of estates, the requirements of the beneficiaries and the variation in investment powers. For example, in some instances we are given power to make investments authorized for life insurance companies. In others we are permitted to invest in any investments we in our discretion may decide upon. But in a great many we are limited to trustee investments only, which means, generally speaking, that our choice is confined to Dominion, Provincial and Municipal obligations and to trust mortgages.

Certainly our responsibility to income beneficiaries is just as great as our responsibility to those who ultimately share in the capital, and it is a task of much importance—and one of great concern to us—to lay down an investment programme for each estate which will provide maximum benefits for the life tenant consistent with the obligation imposed on the trustee to conserve capital. In our Company, all sales and purchases of securities are made only after they have been approved by the General Investment Committee, which is composed of the executive officers of the Company. In addition, we have the advice and counsel of our Board of Directors. Continuous supervision is provided by a competent, well organized Investment Department whose duties involve the preparation of statistical material and the analysis and careful scrutiny of all classes of securities suitable for the investment of trust funds.

I should again like to express great satisfaction at the cordial relations which have at all times existed between the Company and the members of the legal profession. Our officers deal with the practical problems which arise out of the administration of the trusts and estates in our care. They do not practise law. We respect the position occupied by the members of the profession, and I believe that it is this respect and the willingness to cooperate on both sides that has resulted in the spirit of goodwill which exists. It is our intention to do everything possible to preserve it.
